Turtles

No, we aren't talking about the reptile! Turtle's are containers designed to protect your valuable data. They are used to transfer your data from one location to another safely and securely.

Turtles come in various sizes to fit the need of your company whether your storing one tape to 30 tapes. So why choose a turtle?

- Protection from damage due to shock or impact

March 2011

We hope you enjoyed your first edition of our newsletter. It's March and here at FCRS we are looking forward to spring! This month we will focus on our vault. Enjoy!
